

Having the opportunity to listen to Air 1 is a great blessing. Many of my friends and family have come to enjoy the alternative Christian music and the great encouragement that the station brings. Without Air 1, I believe that many of us would go back to the empty secular music of our culture, with nothing to meet the needs of the teen and early adult genre. Other programming could simply not do Air 1 justice. Many early Christians depend on Air 1 for motivation and comfort, and to remind them where their heart needs to be. Air 1 helps contribute to the well being of the public, and helps make days brighter with the smiles it brings.
